

First Conference November 23 – December 2005

How can use of learning objects enrich the learning process?

What?	Who?
Learning objects and social interactivity	Johan Thorbiörnson, Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm
The use of learning resources within Icelandic companies.	Sigríður Ásgrímsdóttir director of Video & tölvulausn - elearning company
Pedagogical aspects (supported by examples) of why it is valuable to work with learning objects in adult education	Morten Ørsted, director of MOCH e-learning company
The policy of sharing digital resources and learning objects –copyright, storing, finding, retrieval, use and reuse.	Kjell Atle Halvorsen, project manager, Program for lærerutdanning, NTNU, Trondheim
Science Linkhouse maintained by information professionals in Finnish information service organizations - examples and experiences	Risto Heikkinen, Jyväskylä University
Successful implementation of learning resources in different environments How student support is enhanced.	Ulf Sandström, project leader CFL, Härnösand