

Fourth Conference March 5 - 7 2007

Learning in the Workplace

Quality in eLearning, Wikis, Learning Objects and participant contributions

Period summaries and pervasive learning

What?	Who?
eLearning at the workplace – examples of good practice and lessons learnt.	Anne Marie Kanstrup – Aalborg University.
Quality issues in eLearning, who defines them and how this is done.	Leena Vaino - Head of the eLearning Centre within the HAMK University of Applied Sciences.
Educational podcasting. Learning Objects on the go.	Ms Jatta Rautanen, Multimedia Editor and Cilla Lönnqvist Multimedia Producer, YLE, Finnish Broadcasting Company. "Learning Objects and Digital Learning Environments".(FI)  Jan Arve Overland, Kongsberg videregående skole (podcasting used in teaching)
Use of wikis in his everyday work with his students.	Johan Lundin – Lecturer at the IT University in Gothenburg.
How ot use wikis to enhance learning compared to traditional exercises.	Svend Andreas Horgen – Lecturer, University College Sør-Trøndelag.
Pervasive, ubiquitous or ambient learning is a new concept with potentially huge implications for the design and understanding of tomorrow's learning environments. It is the way we can design learning experiences when ICT leaves the PC and becomes part of the environment.	Niels Henrik Helms – Knowledge Lab in Denmark